

Information and Research and Prostate Health

We have started the second week of Movember. For those of you who have donated, thanks! Any amount of money will help support the cause. If you haven't yet and still want to donate, click on the link below to both see my growth progress and donate! AND to increase the incentive anyone donating any amount will receive a free detoxification foot bath in the office!

Nutrition and Cancer

There is still a lot to be learned about cancer and what is really going on with it. Below is a link summarizing the latest in nutritional support that is on my site. There is current research supporting the concept that any cancer issue is a liver issue until proven otherwise. The liver detoxifies your body. If it can't do it as effectively as possible, it has to store the toxins elsewhere which can lead to many health conditions, possibly cancer.

If you have history of cancer in the family you definitely want to take a look at the link. To make it more customized for your body, please contact our office for more details. It's quite difficult to get the quality of these type of products over the counter vs what a health care professional can get.

If you have had chemotherapy or radiation and still have your prostate there are a couple great products to start with by Standard Process (www.standardprocess.com). Palmettoplex and Prostate PMG. More details will be in the link below.

Whether you have your prostate or not, doing a purification program at least 2 times a year with liver support throughout the year would be another option to look at. For details on our purification program click the link below.
